A conflict of interest exists between the interests of the investment advisor and the interests of the Client; the Client is under no obligation to act upon the investment advisor’s recommendation. If the Client elects to act on any of the recommendations, the Client is under no obligation to effect the transaction through PWM. Client may cancel at any time during the ninety (90) days with no cost or obligation. Services are completed and delivered inside of ninety (90) days.

custodian. GI will pay PWM their share of the fees. PWM does not have access to deduct client fees. Clients may terminate their account within five business days of signing the investment advisory agreement with no obligation. For terminations after the initial five business days, GI will be entitled to a pro-rata fee for the days service was provided in the final quarter. GI will pay PWM their portion of the final fee. GI will assist in the opening, closing and transferring of accounts. GI will provide institutional and 3rd party reports on securities held in the account and investment analysis via email or via phone when requested. GI will liquidate and purchase securities per the client's request. GI will also provide administrative services per the client's written request such as: ACH, check writing, RMD servicing. GI will provide consolidated household performance reporting on these accounts which are combined with any GI managed accounts.

The above fees are negotiable. Fees are assessed quarterly in arrears based on the amount of the assets managed as of the end of the previous quarter. All management fees are withdrawn from the Client's account unless otherwise noted. GI will receive written authorization from the Client to deduct advisory fees from their account held by a qualified custodian. GI will pay Advisor their share of the fees. Advisor does not have access to deduct Client fees. Clients may terminate their account within five (5) business days of signing the investment advisory agreement without penalty or obligation. For terminations after the initial five business days, GI will be entitled to a pro-rata fee for the days service was provided in the final quarter. GI will pay Advisor their portion of the final fee.

Incentive Program - GI

In addition to the regular advisory fee, GI has instituted a long-term incentive arrangement by which the independent RIA can share in GI's portion of the management fee. This does not change the cost to the Client; it is a sharing arrangement paid from GI's portion of the advisory fee.

The incentive arrangement will be paid annually according to the following table:

PWM quarterly AUM with GI	Participation rate in GI's fee
$10,000,000	3.00%
$25,000,000	10.00%
$50,000,000	12.50%
$75,000,000	15.00%

Once PWM reaches and maintains the thresholds listed above, the participation rate applies to all of the AUM for the quarter.

To receive the incentive award, PWM needs to meet two qualifications. First, the quarter end billable AUM must be above the threshold amounts specified. Second, PWM must be an advisor "in good standing" with GI at the time the annual checks are issued. "In good standing" means the advisor is proactively placing assets with GI.

Under the Client's investment advisory relationship with Advisor, all funds should be made payable to the Advisor's clearing firm. PWM may not accept cash or any other instrument payable to PWM.

1. The management fees listed herein is Gradient Investments, LLC fee schedule as contained in the advisory agreement.
2. All accounts assigned to and managed by Gradient Investments, LLC follow the above fee schedule and cannot be altered by PWM without written consent from Gradient Investments, LLC
3. PWM's portion of the management fee will be paid to PWM within 30 days after receipt by Advisor.
4. A Client with multiple accounts may combine assets for fee computation.
5. Fees are payable quarterly, in arrears, based on the most recent quarter end values.

FINANCIAL PLANNING and CONSULTING

If assets are not managed by PWM or a Third Party Money manager, Financial Planning and Consulting is available at an hourly rate of $250. The payment is due upon plan completion.

Client Payment of Fees

Investment management fees are charged quarterly in arrears. Fees are usually deducted from a designated Client account to facilitate billing. The Client must consent in advance to direct debiting of their investment account.

Fees for financial plans are due upon delivery of the financial plan.

Clients will be billed in accordance with the Co-Advisor's fee schedule which will be disclosed to the Client's prior to signing an agreement.

Additional Client Fees Charged

Custodians may charge transaction fees on purchases or sales of certain mutual funds, equities and exchange-traded funds. These transaction charges are usually small and incidental to the purchase or sale of a security. The selection of the security is more important than the nominal fee that the custodian charges to buy or sell the security.

PWM, in its sole discretion, may waive its minimum fee and/or charge a lesser investment advisory fee based upon certain criteria (e.g., historical relationship, type of assets, anticipated future earning capacity, anticipated future additional assets, dollar amounts of assets to be managed, related accounts, account composition, negotiations with Clients, etc.).

Prepayment of Client Fees

PWM doesn't charge fees in advance.

External Compensation for the Sale of Securities to Clients

PWM does not receive any external compensation for the sale of securities to Clients, nor do any of the investment advisor representatives of PWM.

Item 6: Performance-Based FeesSharing of Capital Gains

Fees are not based on a share of the capital gains or capital appreciation of managed securities.

PWM does not use a performance-based fee structure because of the conflict of interest. Performance-based compensation may create an incentive for the adviser to recommend an investment that may carry a higher degree of risk to the Client.

Item 7: Types of ClientsDescription

PWM generally provides investment advice to individuals, high net worth individuals, corporations or business entities. Client relationships vary in scope and length of service.

Account Minimums

PWM does not require a minimum to open an account however Third Party Money Managers we utilize may have a minimum to open an account on their platform.

Item 8: Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of LossMethods of Analysis

Security analysis methods may include fundamental analysis, technical analysis, and cyclical analysis. Investing in securities involves risk of loss that Clients should be prepared to bear. Past performance is not a guarantee of future returns.

Fundamental analysis involves evaluating a stock using real data such as company revenues, earnings, return on equity, and profits margins to determine underlying value and potential growth. Technical analysis involves evaluating securities based on past prices and volume. Cyclical analysis involves analyzing the cycles of the market.

When creating a financial plan, PWM utilizes fundamental analysis to provide review of insurance policies for economic value and income replacement. Technical analysis is used to review mutual funds and individual stocks. The main sources of information include Morningstar, Client documents such as tax returns and insurance policies.

In developing a financial plan for a Client, PWM's analysis may include cash flow analysis, investment planning, risk management, tax planning and estate planning. Based on the information gathered, a detailed strategy is tailored to the Client's specific situation.

The main sources of information include financial newspapers and magazines, annual reports, prospectuses, and filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Investment Strategy

The investment strategy for a specific Client is based upon the objectives stated by the Client during consultations. The Client may change these objectives at any time. Each Client executes an Investment Policy Statement or Risk Tolerance that documents their objectives and their desired investment strategy.

Other strategies may include long-term purchases, short-term purchases, trading, short sales, margin transactions and option writing (including covered options, uncovered options or spreading strategies).

Security Specific Material Risks

All investment programs have certain risks that are borne by the investor. Our investment approach constantly keeps the risk of loss in mind. Investors face the following investment risks and should discuss these risks with PWM:

- Interest-rate Risk: Fluctuations in interest rates may cause investment prices to fluctuate. For example, when interest rates rise, yields on existing bonds become less attractive, causing their market values to decline.
- Market Risk: The price of a security, bond, or mutual fund may drop in reaction to tangible and intangible events and conditions. This type of risk is caused by external factors independent of a security's particular underlying circumstances. For example, political, economic and social conditions may trigger market events.
- Inflation Risk: When any type of inflation is present, a dollar today will buy more than a dollar next year, because purchasing power is eroding at the rate of inflation.
- Currency Risk: Overseas investments are subject to fluctuations in the value of the dollar against the currency of the investment's originating country. This is also referred to as exchange rate risk.
- Reinvestment Risk: This is the risk that future proceeds from investments may have to be reinvested at a potentially lower rate of return (i.e. interest rate). This primarily relates to fixed income securities.
- Business Risk: These risks are associated with a particular industry or a particular company within an industry. For example, oil-drilling companies depend on finding oil and then refining it, a lengthy process, before they can generate a profit. They carry a higher risk of profitability than an electric company which generates its income from a steady stream of customers who buy electricity no matter what the economic environment is like.
- Liquidity Risk: Liquidity is the ability to readily convert an investment into cash. Generally, assets are more liquid if many traders are interested in a standardized product. For example, Treasury Bills are highly liquid, while real estate properties are not.

- Financial Risk: Excessive borrowing to finance a business' operations increases the risk of profitability, because the company must meet the terms of its obligations in good times and bad. During periods of financial stress, the inability to meet loan obligations may result in bankruptcy and/or a declining market value.

Item 9: Disciplinary Information

Criminal or Civil Actions

PWM and its management have not been involved in any criminal or civil action.

Administrative Enforcement Proceedings

PWM and its management have not been involved in administrative enforcement proceedings.

Self-Regulatory Organization Enforcement Proceedings

PWM and its management have not been involved in legal or disciplinary events related to past or present investment Clients.

Item 10: Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Broker-Dealer or Representative Registration

No affiliated representatives of PWM are registered representatives of a broker-dealer.

Futures or Commodity Registration

Neither PWM nor its employees are registered or has an application pending to register as a futures commission merchant, commodity pool operator, or a commodity trading advisor.

Material Relationships Maintained by this Advisory Business and Conflicts of Interest

Paul Cochran has a financial industry affiliated business as an insurance agent. From time to time, he offers Clients advice or products from those activities. Paul also has a tax service affiliated business.

These practices represent conflicts of interest because it gives him an incentive to recommend products based on the commission and/or fee amount received. This conflict is mitigated by disclosures, procedures, and the firm's Fiduciary obligation to place the best interest of the Client first and the Clients are not required to purchase any products or services. Clients have the option to purchase these products and services through another insurance agent or tax professional of their choosing.

Recommendations or Selections of Other Investment Advisors and Conflicts of Interest

PWM utilizes the services of Third Party Money Managers to manage client accounts. In such circumstances, PWM receives Co-Advisor fees from the Third Party Manager. This situation creates a conflict of interest. However, when referring clients to a Third Party Money Manager, the client's best interest will be the main determining factor of PWM. These fees do not include brokerage fees that may be assessed by the custodian. Fees for these services are based on a percentage of Assets Under Management not to exceed any limit imposed by any regulatory agency. The final fee schedule is disclosed in the Client agreement.

This Co-Advisor relationship is disclosed to the client in each contract between PWM and Third Party Money Manager. PWM does not charge additional management fees for Third Party Managed Account Services. Client's signature is required to confirm consent for services within Third Party Investment Agreement. Client initials PWM 's Investment Advisory Agreement to acknowledge receipt of Third Party Fee Schedule and required documents including Form ADV Part 2 disclosures.

Item 11: Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Code of Ethics Description

The employees of PWM have committed to a Code of Ethics ("Code"). The purpose of our Code is to set forth standards of conduct expected of PWM employees and addresses conflicts that may arise. The Code defines acceptable behavior for employees of PWM. The Code reflects PWM and its supervised persons' responsibility to act in the best interest of their Client.

One area which the Code addresses is when employees buy or sell securities for their personal accounts and how to mitigate any conflict of interest with our Clients. We do not allow any employees to use non-public material information for their personal profit or to use internal research for their personal benefit in conflict with the benefit to our Clients.

PWM's policy prohibits any person from acting upon or otherwise misusing non-public or inside information. No advisory representative or other employee, officer or director of PWM may recommend any transaction in a security or its derivative to advisory Clients or engage in personal securities transactions for a security or its derivatives if the advisory representative possesses material, non-public information regarding the security.

PWM's Code is based on the guiding principle that the interests of the Client are our top priority. PWM's officers, directors, advisors, and other employees have a fiduciary duty to our Clients and must diligently perform that duty to maintain the complete trust and confidence of our Clients. When a conflict arises, it is our obligation to put the Client's interests over the interests of either employees or the company.

The Code applies to "access" persons. "Access" persons are employees who have access to non-public information regarding any Clients' purchase or sale of securities, or non-public information regarding the portfolio holdings of any reportable fund, who are involved in making securities recommendations to Clients, or who have access to such recommendations that are non-public.

The firm will provide a copy of the Code of Ethics to any Client or prospective Client upon request.

Investment Recommendations Involving a Material Financial Interest and Conflict of Interest

PWM and its employees do not recommend to Clients securities in which we have a material financial interest.

Advisory Firm Purchase of Same Securities Recommended to Clients and Conflicts of Interest

PWM and its employees may buy or sell securities that are also held by Clients. In order to mitigate conflicts of interest such as front running, employees are required to disclose all reportable securities transactions as well as provide PWM with copies of their brokerage statements.

The Chief Compliance Officer of PWM is Paul Cochran. He reviews all employee trades each quarter. The personal trading reviews ensure that the personal trading of employees does not affect the markets and that Clients of the firm receive preferential treatment over employee transactions.

Client Securities Recommendations or Trades and Concurrent Advisory Firm Securities Transactions and Conflicts of Interest

PWM does not maintain a firm proprietary trading account and does not have a material financial interest in any securities being recommended and therefore no conflicts of interest exist. However, employees may buy or sell securities at the same time they buy or sell securities for Clients. In order to mitigate conflicts of interest such as front running, employees are required to disclose all reportable securities transactions as well as provide PWM with copies of their brokerage statements.

The Chief Compliance Officer of PWM is Paul Cochran. He reviews all employee trades each quarter. The personal trading reviews ensure that the personal trading of employees does not affect the markets and that Clients of the firm receive preferential treatment over employee transactions.

Item 12: Brokerage Practices

Factors Used to Select Broker-Dealers for Client Transactions

PWM may recommend the use of a particular broker-dealer or may utilize a broker-dealer of the Client's choosing. PWM will select appropriate brokers based on a number of factors including but not limited to their relatively low transaction fees and reporting ability. PWM relies on its broker to provide its execution services at the best prices available. Lower fees for comparable services may be available from other sources. Clients pay for any and all custodial fees in addition to the advisory fee charged by PWM.

- Directed Brokerage
PWM does not allow directed brokerage.
- Best Execution
Investment advisors who manage or supervise Client portfolios on a discretionary basis have a fiduciary obligation of best execution. The determination of what may constitute best execution and price in the execution of a securities transaction by a broker involves a number of considerations and is subjective. Factors affecting brokerage selection include the overall direct net economic result to the portfolios, the efficiency with which the transaction is effected, the ability to effect the transaction where a large block is involved, the operational facilities of the broker-dealer, the value of an ongoing relationship with such broker and the financial strength and stability of the broker. The firm does not receive any portion of the trading fees.
- Soft Dollar Arrangements
PWM utilizes the services of custodial broker dealers. Economic benefits are received by PWM which would not be received if PWM did not give investment advice to Clients. These benefits include: A dedicated trading desk, a dedicated service group and an account services manager dedicated to PWM's accounts, ability to conduct "block" Client trades, electronic download of trades, balances and positions, duplicate and batched Client statements, and the ability to have advisory fees directly deducted from Client accounts.

A conflict of interest exists when PWM receives soft dollars. This conflict is mitigated by disclosures, procedures, and the firm's Fiduciary obligation to act in the best interest of his Clients and the services received are beneficial to all Clients.

Aggregating Securities Transactions for Client Accounts

PWM is authorized in its discretion to aggregate purchases and sales and other transactions made for the account with purchases and sales and transactions in the same securities for other Clients of PWM. All Clients participating in the aggregated order shall receive an average share price with all other transaction costs shared on a pro-rated basis.

Item 13: Review of Accounts

Schedule for Periodic Review of Client Accounts or Financial Plans and Advisory Persons Involved

Account reviews are performed quarterly by Paul Cochran, Chief Compliance Officer. Account reviews are performed more frequently when market conditions dictate. Financial Plans are considered complete when recommendations are delivered to the Client and a review is done only upon request of Client.

Review of Client Accounts on Non-Periodic Basis

Other conditions that may trigger a review of Clients accounts are changes in the tax laws, new investment information, and changes in a Client's own situation.

Content of Client Provided Reports and Frequency

Clients receive account statements no less than quarterly for managed accounts. Account statement are issued by the PWM's or Third Party Money Manager's custodian. Client receives confirmations of each transaction in account from Custodian and an additional statement during any month in which a transaction occurs.

Item 14: Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Economic benefits provided to the Advisory Firm from External Sources and Conflicts of Interest

PWM receive a portion of the annual management fees collected from the Third Party Money Managers to whom we refer Clients.

This situation creates a conflict of interest because the Firm and/or its Investment Advisor Representative have an incentive to decide what Third Party Money Managers to use because of the higher referral fees to be received by us. However, when referring Clients to a Third Party Money Manager, the Client's best interest will be the main determining factor of the Firm.

Financial consultants may be eligible for cash and non-cash compensation including bonuses, recognition trips and other benefits. Some of these programs may be financed in whole or in part by unaffiliated third parties, including Third Party Money Managers, which may influence some representatives to favor those managers. See the prior sections entitled "Fees and Compensation" and "Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations" for more details regarding compensation and conflicts of interests.

PWM's investment advisor representatives may receive certain benefits from Gradient Investments, LLC (and/or its affiliated companies) based on achieving certain production thresholds. These thresholds are not based on the sale of any specific product or specific product type. These incentives include marketing assistance, access to technology, office support, and business trainings and trips. While some of these benefit the client, such as technology and training, some do not. This creates a conflict of interest because it gives an incentive to the representative to meet this threshold. This conflict is mitigated by disclosures, procedures and the firm's fiduciary obligation to place the best interest of the Client first. Clients are not required to use Gradient Investments, LLC or any of its affiliated companies.

Advisory Firm Payments for Client Referrals

PWM does not compensate for Client referrals.

Item 15: Custody

Account Statements

All assets are held at qualified custodians, which means the custodians provide account statements directly to Clients at their address of record at least quarterly. Clients are urged to compare the account statements received directly from their custodians to the performance report statements prepared by PWM.

PWM is deemed to have indirect custody solely because advisory fees are directly deducted from Client's accounts by the custodian on behalf of PWM.

Item 16: Investment Discretion

Discretionary Authority for Trading

PWM accepts discretionary authority to manage securities accounts on behalf of Clients. PWM has the authority to determine, without obtaining specific Client consent, the securities to be bought or sold, and the amount of the securities to be bought or sold. However, PWM consults with the Client prior to each trade to obtain concurrence if a blanket trading authorization has not been given.

The Client approves the custodian to be used and the commission rates paid to the custodian. PWM does not receive any portion of the transaction fees or commissions paid by the Client to the custodian on certain trades.

Item 17: Voting Client Securities

Proxy Votes

PWM does not vote proxies on securities. Clients are expected to vote their own proxies. The Client will receive their proxies directly from the custodian of their account or from a transfer agent.

When assistance on voting proxies is requested, PWM will provide recommendations to the Client. If a conflict of interest exists, it will be disclosed to the Client.

Item 18: Financial Information

Balance Sheet

A balance sheet is not required to be provided because PWM does not serve as a custodian for Client funds or securities and PWM does not require prepayment of fees of more than $1,200 per Client and six months or more in advance.

Financial Conditions Reasonably Likely to Impair Advisory Firm's Ability to Meet Commitments to Clients

PWM has no condition that is reasonably likely to impair our ability to meet contractual commitments to our Clients.

Bankruptcy Petitions during the Past Ten Years

Neither PWM nor its management has had any bankruptcy petitions in the last ten years.

Professional Certifications

Garrett Crawford has earned certifications and credentials that are required to be explained in further detail.

The CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™, CFP® and federally registered CFP (with flame design) marks (collectively, the “CFP® marks”) are professional certification marks granted in the United States by Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards, Inc. (“CFP Board”).

The CFP® certification is a voluntary certification; no federal or state law or regulation requires financial planners to hold CFP® certification. It is recognized in the United States and a number of other countries for its (1) high standard of professional education; (2) stringent code of conduct and standards of practice; and (3) ethical requirements that govern professional engagements with Clients.

To attain the right to use the CFP® marks, an individual must satisfactorily fulfill the following requirements:

- Education – Complete an advanced college-level course of study addressing the financial planning subject areas that CFP Board’s studies have determined as necessary for the competent and professional delivery of financial planning services, and attain a Bachelor’s Degree from a regionally accredited United States college or university (or its equivalent from a foreign university). CFP Board’s financial planning subject areas include insurance planning and risk management, employee benefits planning, investment planning, income tax planning, retirement planning, and estate planning;
- Examination – Pass the comprehensive CFP® Certification Examination. The examination includes case studies and Client scenarios designed to test one’s ability to correctly diagnose financial planning issues and apply one’s knowledge of financial planning to real world circumstances;
- Experience – Complete at least three years of full-time financial planning-related experience (or the equivalent, measured as 2,000 hours per year); and
- Ethics – Agree to be bound by CFP Board’s Standards of Professional Conduct, a set of documents outlining the ethical and practice standards for CFP® professionals.

Individuals who become certified must complete the following ongoing education and ethics requirements in order to maintain the right to continue to use the CFP® marks:

- Continuing Education – Complete 30 hours of continuing education hours every two years, including two hours on the Code of Ethics and other parts of the Standards of Professional Conduct, to maintain competence and keep up with developments in the financial planning field; and
- Ethics – Renew an agreement to be bound by the Standards of Professional Conduct. The Standards prominently require that CFP® professionals provide financial planning services at a fiduciary standard of care. This means CFP® professionals must provide financial planning services in the best interests of their Clients.

CFP® professionals who fail to comply with the above standards and requirements may be subject to CFP Board’s enforcement process, which could result in suspension or permanent revocation of their CFP® certification.

Disciplinary Information

Mr. Crawford does not have any disciplinary information to report.

Other Business Activities

Garrett Crawford has a financial industry affiliated business as an insurance agent. From time to time, he offers clients advice or products from that activity.

This practice represents a conflict of interest because it gives him an incentive to recommend products based on the commission amount received. This conflict is mitigated by disclosures, procedures, and the firm’s Fiduciary obligation to place the best interest of the client first and the clients are not required to purchase any products or services. Clients have the option to purchase these products and services through another insurance agent of their choosing.

Additional Compensation

Mr. Crawford does not receive any performance-based fees.

Garrett Crawford may receive certain benefits from Gradient Investments, LLC (and/or its affiliated companies) based on achieving certain production thresholds. These thresholds are not based on the sale of any specific product or specific product type. These incentives include marketing assistance, access to technology, office support, and business trainings and trips. While some of these benefit the client, such as technology and training, some do not. This creates a conflict of interest because it gives an incentive to the representative to meet this threshold. This conflict is mitigated by disclosures, procedures and the firm’s fiduciary obligation to place the best interest of the Client first. Clients are not required to use Gradient Investments, LLC or any of its affiliated companies.
